Before and After Bulletin Ad

When a feller needs a home, it's not much fun. And little Bryan Shandrew knows how it feels to be turned out of home after home, just because he's a kid. His tears were quickly dried when Edmonton couple advertised in Bulletin, "Three room suite . . . young married couple only, with baby preferred."

"Now isn't that nice of those people," thinks Bryan when told Mr. and Mrs. K. Dalgleish, 9527-109A avenue, had rented a suite to him. Mom and Pop Bryan as just 16 months old, has lived in five different homes during past year in Edmonton. "I'm just a little guy trying to get along," he smiles. "I don't wanna cause no trouble."

He received terms of one year on each of four charges and six months on each of six charges. Sentences will run concurrently.

Four of the cheques, totalling $86.88, were passed in city department stores during May and June of this year. The others were passed in Banff, Grande Prairie, and Athabasca.

Accused said court that he had committed the offences after his wife's death.

Road Safety To Be Taught City Youths

The "Hey, Pop, can I have a car tonight?" kind of driver is going to be educated.

A highway safety educational program to encourage greater responsibility on the part of younger drivers is now being distributed by the Alberta Safety Council.

Prompting the move is the claim that drivers under 25 are involved in far too many accidents for the mileage they drive.

According to National Safety Council figures, drivers in the age group, 15 to 25 years of age, are involved in 27 per cent of all traffic accidents.

Junior drivers will be asked to observe these eight points:

That, knowing insofar as the law is concerned, my acts in using the car are the acts of my father; I will try to drive it as carefully and cautiously as he does; and

That because I am fully aware of the risks involved in driving after drinking, I will not allow the car to be driven by anyone who has been drinking any form of intoxicating liquor while the car is in my charge; and

That I fully realize the car is not a plaything, but a machine which has power to kill and to injure, and I will not try to show-off with it.

That I will not drive it at any time in excess of the speed limit specified on any city street or open highway.

That I will slow down and look both ways at all intersections even though I may have the right-of-way.

That I will not race with other cars regardless of how much of a temptation it might be to do so.

That I will not attempt to drive if I feel sleepy.

That I will obey all signs, street and highway markings, signal lights and other traffic regulations.

The accused replied they had committed the offences after his wife's death.

Lady in this picture is looking a bit wistfully toward her old home in Edmonton, almost 9,000 miles away. She is Mrs. Kevin Cook of Sydney, Australia, former Mary Ferguson of 11923-90 street. She married handsome Australian at her side when he trained at No. 2 Air Observers school here during last war. See story on page 2.

Ex-Native Nostalgic About Cold Winters

It's funny how a person longs for snow, hockey and the other things that go along with a brisk, bright Alberta winter.

But Edmontonians do miss these things when they live in a subtropical climate.

I found this out on my recent visit to Australia as a member of Canadian Pacific Airlines presale flight party.

In the great New South Wales city of Sydney I visited a former Edmonton girl, Mrs. Kevin Cook.

Before her marriage to Kevin Cook four years ago she was Mary Ferguson of 11923-90 street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ferguson of that address.

I didn't mind the cold winters when I trained in Edmonton, I liked the snow, she said.

Cook is employed in a paper mill on the outskirts of Sydney.

CONVENIENCES LACKING

Mrs. Cook attended Eastwood and Commercial high schools here and was working at Alberta Poultry Producing Co. at the time of her marriage.

Her tall, blond Aussie husband would like to return to Edmonton, she said.

Cook trained as a navigator in No. 2 Air Observers' school here during the war, later completing a year of operations with the Royal Australian Air Force in Great Britain.

Attractions that go with Australian life are the comprehensive government health and medical insurance plans that cover all residents.

"We have no worries about doctor bills," said Mrs. Cook.

Alleged Killer Jailed at Fort

Nowell Remanded For Hearing Wednesday On Murder Charge

Willfred Leslie Nowell, accused murderer of Thomas Law, is in Fort Saskatchewan jail today.

The 43-year-old sign painter, who allegedly shot down his former employer Monday afternoon following an argument over $21, was remanded until August 3 when he appeared in court only 18 hours after the death of the well-known Edmonton businessman.

The artillery veteran's dark, deeply-lined face appeared calm and expressionless, as he listened to the charge. He was escorted to the box manacled to Constable H. B. Stevenson to hear the charge that he had unlawfully slain and killed Thomas Law, thus committing murder. The accused man did not give any indication of emotion as he heard the words.

Nowell had been discharged from his military service in 1918. He was working for a sign painter, firm Monday morning because of failure to show up for work. He was told by his employer, Thomas Law, to return in the afternoon to pick up his final cheque.

It is believed an argument ensued when the accused returned in the afternoon with his wife, Nowell was said to have used his employer's $21 and follow employees believe the money was deducted from his last pay cheque.

At the height of the argument, Nowell is alleged to have pulled out a German-made millimeter Luger automatic and shot his employer twice.

A strange promiscuity of doom was experienced by Law's sister, Mrs. J. L. Lewis, 3162-32 street.

The slain man's sister, whose hobby is reading cards, casually told her daughter's fortune the morning of the murder and predicted a death which would be sudden and shocking. Within seven hours her brother was dead.

Survivors Of Alaska Crash Arrive Here

Fit and well, and happy to be alive, Dr. Melville Cook, author and scientist, arrived in Edmonton today from Alaska where he and his wife recently survived a plane crash into a mountain side in Alaska.

"Pilot of the small plane got lost," related Dr. Cook, "and we crashed into a mountain side 30 miles north of the Arctic circle."

Plane was smashed but neither pilot nor Dr. and Mrs. Cook was injured. They lived on emergency rations for seven days before being rescued by the U.S. marine squadron. Temperatures ranged between 30 and 60 degrees but the stranded trio kept quite comfortable in the cabin of the plane.

Dr. Cook formerly plant pathologist with the American department of agriculture arrived in 1940 after 12 years in Puerto Rico and Cuba. His work was chiefly in connection with diseases of tropical plants, with concentration on viruses and fungi. He is author of several books on plant diseases, his latest dealing with citrus viruses and virus diseases of plants.

Completing their holiday trip Dr. and Mrs. Cook will visit Saskatoon and Winnipeg before returning to the States and the Louisiana State University where they now make their home.

Many Edmontonians are among those who successfully wrote examinations of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants of Alberta.

Much Mud Slows Travel As Rains Pelt Highways

Recent drenching rains throughout the province have played havoc with some bus schedules but have left other means of transportation clicking along on schedule.

Edmonton bus depot, centre for all bus lines running out of Edmonton, report that the Sunburst motor coach from Winifred is stranded somewhere between Wetaskiwin and Marmora Beach. The bus left Edmonton last night at 8:15 and is ordinarily due here at 10:40 the following morning.

Buses on other lines have been running late but no serious accidents or delays have been reported.

Trains on both CNR and CPR lines are running on schedule. Planes on TCA and CPA, Associated Airways, and Air Lines, Mackenzie Air Service and North West Air Lines are taking off and arriving on time.

Highways in Alberta range from fair to rough conditions, reports the Alberta Motor Association.

Road from Edmonton to Peace River is fair with rough and bumpy sections between Lesser Slave Lake and High Prairie. Roads have been heavy in the High River area.

Charming Country Fairs

It's too bad that high-pressure skid-rowers have started to invade the country fairs of Alberta because the country fair, pure and unadorned, has a charm that no great city exhibition can begin to equal. The country fair, in its pristine purity, is essentially the high spot of rural life.

It has all the heartiness and cordiality and friendliness of country folk and it sums up, in the happiest manner, the fruits of their year's labors.

The country fair was perhaps the earliest social event in history.

It fosters a healthy rivalry among farmers and townsmen alike.

It is based on the wholesome effort of Mr. Brown to grow a better squash or turnip or cucumber than Mr. Jones.

It glorifies that most commendable of all arts, the ability of a skilled wife to put up better pickles, bake a better cake or patch a better quilt than her neighbors.

These things are of the very essence of living.

They are human. They are earthy. They are close to the verities of life.

The country fair, too, is the annual event which permits the renewing of old friendships, the cementing of a warm relationship between farm and town and the exchange of views and news which are important because they are simple and therefore vital.

But when the skid-rower creeps in, it introduces a foreign and not always wholesome element into the country fair. Cold-eyed operators of controlled apparatus edge out Aunt Nellie's champion cherry pie.

And there is something utterly incongruous about a blue ribbon pig and a fixed wheel of fortune that delivers a prize at the operator's own sweet will. These are incongruous because the pig is much the nobler animal.

Skid-rowers are necessary in city exhibitions, we suppose, because there is a wide demand for them. The city mentality demands excitement and hoarse shouting even at the price of being disgracefully gyped.

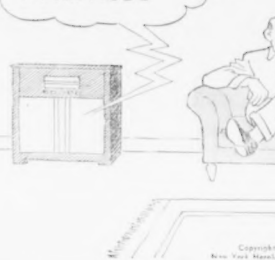

And, we presume, the larger towns have been compelled to introduce this unpleasant feature because towns grow up and begin to demand the city type of excitement.

But it is a very great pity.

Country fairs are so much simpler, so much healthier and have so much greater charm.

Industrial Survey Is Timely

The civic administration is to be commended for initiating a timely and useful industrial survey to provide facts for new industries which may wish to establish in Edmonton.

The survey is in the capable hands of Mr. J. J. Ross who has had experience with such matters in the United Kingdom and who conducted the survey of the coal mining industry in England at the time of nationalization.

The campaign to bring new industries to this city, if it can be called a campaign, has been operated along hit-and-miss lines.

Law Applies to Everybody

It is good news that the charge of intimidation of voters laid against Premier Joseph Smallwood will come to trial in a Newfoundland court.

It is good news, not because Canadians have any animosity against Premier Smallwood nor because any of them have presumed to prejudice his guilt, but because it is an exemplary instance of Canadian law applying to everybody no matter how high or how low.

It would be highly unfortunate and improper if newspapers attempted to try this case in their columns.

Nevertheless, it is quite within the scope of legitimate comment to point out that to threaten voters with political reprisals should they cast their ballots for the wrong candidate is most reprehensible and un-Canadian.

Not in good defense, in our opinion, to excuse such a threat by saying that it was made "in a bantering manner."

The exercise of the franchise is too solemn and serious a thing to be made the subject of bad jokes.

This is not to say that Premier Smallwood did these things. It is up to the court to discover whether he did or not.

But it was common knowledge after the election, that since the opposition candidate won anyway, the action against Premier Smallwood might just as well be dropped.

It should not be dropped.

Canadian law applies to premiers and peanut-vendors with equal force. When it fails to do so, it is no longer law.

Good News for Neglected People

Announcement by the Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross that supplies of the new drug "cortisone" will be brought here for the treatment of arthritis, is certainly being carried out at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester.

It indicates that the provincial department of health is determined to carry a real battle against the disease which incapitates so many.

The province is already carrying on arthritis research with federal funds and its aim is to obtain a supply of cortisone for the use of the public.

This interest is encouraging in view of the fact that up until the past year or so arthritis was one of the most neglected groups of ailing people in Canada.

Spanking Criminals

Editor, Bulletin—Your editorial entitled "Soft Sentences for Tidy Crimes" was courageous and true. Even 20 months old babies need protecting now.

I do not agree to the lash for a first offence though, as it brands a man's mark for life. A hard thrashing with a school cane would cure most vicious criminals and if they came back for more then the lash might come.

I do not want to see our beautiful and tolerant Canada become a terror state ruled with whips, but neither do I think it should be a country that dares not punish its old people from torturing children nor its children from the unrepentant crime.

The law abiding citizen rights come first. We have tried to reason with these criminals in a courteous manner and only take a few dollars from their pockets or a few months from their freedom and they simply do not respond to kindness.

So let's roll up our sleeves. If I may use that expression, and give each and every one of them a memorable spanking.

And while we are about it let us strip the law of its sanctity and let them see that they can read. It was wise

Street Is Disgrace

Editor, Bulletin—The condition of 102 avenue between 47 street and 96 street is a disgrace to the City of Edmonton engineering and works department and has been for the last year.

A good many times sidewalks are not fit to walk on and it is a time that this condition is repaired, and made passable at all times.

Next hard rain come out and walk or drive down this avenue and see for yourself.

Bulletin and City of Edmonton engineering and works departments take note and do something at once.

Monopoly Enterprise

Editor, Bulletin—It was indeed surprising to see Mr. Stan Ross, a pronounced champion of "free enterprise" publicly coming in defense of monopoly enterprise in his Saturday's column. This argument that our western or eastern industrial giants are able to provide an amazing amount of benefits for each of us leaves me with a cold and am sick of thousands other members of this community.

Perhaps Mr. Ross has never heard of the house of commons price committee which has announced that it will investigate evidence how these "giants" such as Magna, the American and mental combine impose outrageous

ONE MAN'S VIEWPOINT

Freight Increase

On Grain To East

Would Harm Farmer

By Stan Ross

Carl Stimpfle, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, is greatly perturbed over the possibility of the railway companies succeeding in having the freight rates on east-moving wheat and flour being placed under the authority of the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Whether or not the railways intend to do this, remains to be seen. If such a change were made with the intention of increasing the freight charges on wheat and flour, it would be a major blow to the whole economy of the prairies.

In 1888 the Crow's Nest Pass agreement was made between the CPR and the federal government.

In return for a subsidy of $3,500,000 for the construction of a line from Lethbridge to Nelson through the Crow's Nest Pass, it was agreed that freight rates on wheat and flour moving from the west would be reduced by three cents per 100 pounds.

That rate became generally adopted and later when freight rates were placed under control of the Board of Railway Commissioners this rate was specifically exempted.

A large item in Canada's economy is the production and sale of wheat and flour. Prairie farmers would still be at an impossible disadvantage if their grain could not be hauled to the east at greatly reduced freight rates.

The abolition of these rates would be tantamount to wiping out most of our western farmers because returns from grain would not be sufficient to sustain the industry.

Later the same order-in-council revised that this special freight rate was necessary to encourage grain and flour production in the interests of Canada.

The situation that existed in 1888 and in 1925 is identical to that which exists today.

Provision Was Retained
Because the federal government in years past had the good sense to retain this and make certain that this special provision was retained, it should not be changed now.

A matter which depends not upon transportation problems but entirely upon national interests and national policy must be kept strictly within the authority of our national parliament.

Whether or not it is fair to make the railways take the brunt of these reduced rates at a time when costs are high may be a question, but it would seem (and the railway would agree) that the provision for the hauling of grain that this should be provided by way of subsidy.

In any event the hauling of the grain and flour should be kept at the present rates to the farmers.

The end-in-council put it, the encouragement of grain and flour production is in the interests of Canada. And in spite of the very life blood of the West. Under no circumstances could any basic change be made without disastrous results not only to the West but in all of Canada.

SCOTT

I didn't see the Doc in several weeks. When he came walking down the path I realized I'd been missing him. I was working in the blackberries at the back of the yard which I thought I'd engage in a little "business" with. I was a little nervous, but I was a little bit of a man.

"Man's perpetual war with the land," he said, grinning. "You said a lot more about it than you found in that column of yours. Seeing you were so tired, I thought I'd give you a little something to help you out."

"That's all right," I said. "I was a little bit of a man, but I was a little bit of a man."

TRACK STAR NOT FAST

BERKELEY, Cal. July 27.—He may have been a track star, but Pat Flowers, 26, of Richmond, Cal., was no match for a policeman who ran him down after a short chase and arrested him for breaking into a University of California sorority house. Flowers ran for California as a quarter-mile last year.

Stored Butter Not a Surplus

REGINA, July 27.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said yesterday there is no need for anyone to try to find an outlet for the butter surplus the Canadian government is currently building up.

Mr. Gardiner, in hospital here recovering from a stomach disorder, said in an interview there is nothing abnormal in such surpluses. Reserves now accumulating were needed to carry Canada through its annual low-production period.

The federal agriculture minister was commenting on a report that government experts were trying to find an outlet for a steadily increasing accumulation of butter that was expected to reach 60,000,000 pounds by September.

Europe Economy Off, UN Survey Reports

GENEVA, July 27.—(AP)—Europe's balance of payments with North America fell off sharply during the first quarter of this year, the United Nations economic commission for Europe reported today.

Charles Travers Is Air Regulations Superintendent

OTTAWA, July 27.—(CP)—Charles Travers, 41, who took an interest in flying at the age of 15, today was made superintendent of air regulations in the Transport Department's Civil Aviation Division.

His assistant, Stuart Graham, appointed Canada's official delegate to the Air Navigation Commission of the International Civil Aviation Organization.

Kirsten Flagstad Refuses Met Offer

SALTZBURG, Austria, July 27.—(AP)—Kirsten Flagstad, Norwegian opera star, said today she could not accept a New York Metropolitan Opera offer to sing at New York, Boston and Cleveland next March. She said her schedule was full up until 1951.

Cabinet Activity Seen on Increase

Imminent Return of PM Spurs Conference Talk

OTTAWA, July 27.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent returns next week from his New Brunswick vacation and things are expected to start happening in cabinet sessions after that.

One of the biggest and most ticklish matters on the agenda will be dominion-provincial relations, and a definite move in that field seems likely.

Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan renewed his suggestion last week that the dominion-provincial conference be reconvened and other premiers indicated they still favor the idea.

In addition there were rumors that Ontario, which along with Quebec has not reached taxation agreement with the federal government, may be coming around.

OK FOR INSURANCE

If Ontario and Quebec agree to come into the taxation agreement, there would be nothing to bar the government's social security program which includes National Health Insurance.

INVESTMENT BOOMING

Ottawa officials still think 1949 will be a record year for investment in Canada despite two recent sobering developments. They are Britain's decision to slash dollar-buying 25 per cent and Canada's own plan to place imports of American steel under control as part of the answer to her own dollar shortage.

The mid-year survey of the trade department's economic research and development branch emerged only shortly before these happenings. It predicted a total investment program of $1,000,000,000 or 11 per cent beyond the actual 1948 total.

The authors of that report now say the British and Canadian actions to aid currency problems will not alter the figure for 1949 because plans are too far advanced.

Tiny Baby Now Four Days Old

LONDON, Ont. July 27.—(AP)—Little Patricia, Ellen Bridges, up a game fact to be one of the smallest babies in London to survive, hospital weighing was a pound, 12 ounces, and measuring only 10 inches. She is the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bridges, and is a seven-month baby.

CCF Plans Solidifying For Next Federal Vote

OTTAWA, July 27.—(CP)—The CCF—its parliamentary ranks slashed by the Liberal landslide in the June 27 election—is building to become the alternative to the Liberals in the next election.

David Lewis, secretary, said today the ways and means of accomplishing this aim would be discussed at the party's national executive meeting here next week-end.

"We will make every effort to build the CCF into an alternative to the Liberals in the next election," he said in an interview.

CCF TOO SLOW

"The reason for Liberal victories in the last few elections is that there has been no alternative to them," Lewis said.

The executive meeting which will be held at Woodsworth House during the week-end will map out a three-year plan of stepped-up organization and election strategy.

In a statement earlier he referred to reports which he had received from political action groups in the past few weeks.

"These reports," he said, "show three things: first, that the CCF is the only party that has a realistic chance of winning the next election."

Secondly, that memberships are at the highest post-war level and continuing to increase since June 27.

And finally, that rather than dumping the morale of the movement, the election results have increased the determination to expand the organization and educational activities over the next three years.

The meeting will be attended by party heads, including M. J. Coldwell, national leader, and vice-president Angus Macdonald of Vancouver.

Harvest Help

Winnipeg, Man. (CP)—Between 5,000 and 4,000 Manitoba growers picked up advance money for their crops at a rate of 20 to 25 cents a bush.

The advance money was valued at $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

Research Plan For Colonies Is Announced

LONDON, July 27.—(Reuters)—The government last night announced a colonial research program ranging from studies of weather to preventive treatment of malaria, typhus and tuberculosis.

Details were given in the annual report of the Colonial Research Council.

The program of future work is listed in an appendix which names 125 separate projects for which research grants have been approved. In the year ended last March the Colonial Research Council spent £741,702 ($2,966,880), the highest amount ever spent in a single year on colonial research.

The council had authority to spend up to £1,670,884 but shortages of scientific personnel, labor, building material and equipment set their own limit.

Projects in hand for the current year can be grouped into three categories: (1) the struggle against pests carrying disease to man, cattle and crops; (2) the struggle with improvement of existing industries and establishment of new ones; (3) the struggle with sociological problems.

In the fight against disease a number of important developments have been reported, including trials of BCG vaccine in the prevention of tuberculosis. Hundreds of swamps south of Dacca-Bangladesh with salt seawater in them are being drained and continued study of anemia in Uganda now discovered to be due to parasites and not to malnutrition.

The report disclosed that the incidence of the malarial fever, which is against scrub typhus and typhoid fever demonstrated by a research in Malaya had made it possible deliberately to expose human volunteers in known infested areas.

MERCANTILE DRUG STORES

OTTAWA, July 27.—(CP)—Despite a current climb in egg prices, poultry producers said today they fear a recession in egg and poultry prices in "the near future."

For that reason, a national conference of poultry producers announced tonight it will seek stabilized prices for poultry products through an orderly marketing system.

The 10-day conference, which ended tonight, recommended that provinces set up provincial marketing boards.

These, in turn, would organize a central marketing agency under federal legislation passed at the last session of parliament.

URGE U.K. CONTRACT

Called by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and representing every province except Newfoundland, the conference urged that every effort be made to get the United Kingdom to agree to continue the Anglo-Canadian egg contract next year.

It said in a statement that it anticipated "an emergency in the near future in poultry and egg marketing" and that it was concerned "with the possibility of a serious setback in market prices in the near future."

It was equally disturbed over the recent "extremely high prices" for eggs. What was needed, it said, was "stability of prices to avoid fluctuations to extremes of high and low."

To offset the anticipated sales drop, the producers called on the federal government to "explore at once the possibilities of developing and expanding markets for Canadian poultry products in all countries where there was an apparent field for such effort."

To get the provincial marketing machinery into gear quickly, the conference agreed that the proposed provincial marketing boards should be granted power to:

1. Control poultry products whether in domestic, interprovincial or export trade.

2. Establish prices for poultry products.

3. Delegate to a central agency or board the necessary powers to facilitate marketing in interprovincial and export trade.

The 1949 Anglo-Canadian egg contract is for 1,300,000 cases of eggs. The conference said that if the U.K. does not extend the contract, the federal government should immediately support prices.

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 27.—(UPI)—Fear that a dysentery epidemic at Marine Corps Camp Pendleton was spreading here yesterday was expressed here yesterday by Medical Health Officer Dr. Gordon Jackson, after the death of a 12-month-old child.

Dr. Jackson was asked to make a complete investigation of an emergency housing center at Lakewood, near here, after Marguerite Peterson died in Torrance Children's Hospital Monday.

Forty children live in the Lakewood emergency housing, a building where Marguerite lived, Dr. Jackson said.

The first dysentery victim in Torrance was Bonnie Seattle, aged 10 months, who died Sunday.

The epidemic at Lakewood climbed the lives of 12 babies and sent eight others to hospital at Torrance, four in serious condition.

France Ratifies Atlantic Pact

Stormy Session Of National Assembly Votes 398 to 187

PARIS, July 27.—(UPI)—The French national assembly today approved ratification of the Atlantic Pact, 398 to 187, ending the marathon debate punctuated by name-calling and fistuffs between Communists and anti-Communists.

The ratification measure now goes to the consultative council of the republic for approval. It then will be returned to the assembly for a final reading.

The debate began Friday morning and originally was expected to lead to a vote Saturday night.

Deputies shouted at each other and twice exchanged punches, necessitating recesses. Only after an almost 7-hour session from 10:30 p.m. last night until 4:30 a.m. today was the vote finally taken.

From the beginning, ratification was considered a certainty. But Communists and non-Communists, since days of victory, started swapping punches. When President Edouard Herriot suspended a session, they continued fighting in the lobby outside.

Polers said his one was injured seriously, but there were several other cases of bloody noses.

When the vote came, it was the Communists who lined up against ratification, as expected.

Their leaders had charged that the pact was a "German-American treaty" and "a pact of war planned by American capitalists with a view to attacking the Soviet Union."

Pro-pact speakers demanded that the United States back up French ratification with substantial aid in re-arming France.

Full ratification already has been given to the pact by the United States, Canada, Britain, Belgium, Norway, Luxembourg and Iceland.

As in France, the lower houses in Italy and the Netherlands have approved the pact but action by the upper house is pending.

Paraguay's national assembly will have its vote. Denmark's parliament has authorized the government to ratify the pact without any further legislative action. But the formal announcement of ratification has not yet been made.

Twelve nations signed the pact.

Labor Party Expels Member

LONDON, July 27.—(Reuters)—Lester Hutchinson, Labor member of parliament for Rushmore, Manchester, has been expelled from the Labor party. It was learned today from a weekly reliable source.

Hutchinson, considered a left wing member of the party, won the seat in the 1945 general election. A journalist and author, Hutchinson spent many years in India where he was a trade union organizer.

Tibetan Boy Bhuddist Lama To Be Installed

HONG KONG, July 27.—(Reuters)—Prophets of Lamaism, a modified form of Buddhism, are deciding the exact date between Aug. 1 and Aug. 6 to inaugurate a 12-year-old youth as 10th incarnation of the immortal Panchen Lama of Tibet.

The ninth Panchen Lama died in 1907. His successor, born at the monastery, was said to be the exact hour of his death, was discovered in a search for a child in whose body the spirit of the former Lama was said to be reborn.

He was chosen by priests because he took more interest in the personal belongings of the former Panchen Lama than two other youngsters in the final selection.

IN REMOTE CHINA

The ceremony will occur some time between those dates in Hsueh-chang, a small town in the Buddhist center near Suiyuan capital of Chinghai province, northwest China.

Two Grand Lamas are recognized in Tibet. The Panchen Lama is the religious head of the Buddhist church in Tibet and a great part of Mongolia. The Dalai Lama is to be a reincarnation of a bodhisattva, sends the evil as well as the religious government of Tibet.

The Dalai Lama has his seat on the east of Lhasa in Tibet. In spiritual matters the Panchen Lama, leader of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 persons, is believed to have five incarnations.

"REST IN PEACE"
Did you ever hear of a game called Cricket (rhymes with "tick")?

It's played in Canada, you know. Well, it is time somebody knew. "Rest in Peace" sign over the fine old English pastime and decorated the funeral bier with a handful of lilies.

Not that cricket is absolutely dead in Canada, mind you. But it is more than a little dead, and both ends are rapidly withering towards the centre.

Assuming, then, that cricket will soon join Blomster Girl as an extinct species, in this country it is appropriate to record its historic past.

Just how the game got its name is a mystery, but I am told it originated from the popular English saying "I ain't cricket, you know."

Anyhow, it was a well established sport in England in the 14th century because there is a drawing made in 1344, now resting in the Kings Library, London, which shows a cricket bowler, batsman, and a batter with his bat held upside down.

Just why this latter discrepancy appears on the ancient drawing has never been satisfactorily explained. However, later day looks of the game claim the artist was a wee who didn't know a cricket bat from a cricket fence.

In 1385, during the reign of King Edward the 3rd, indulgence in the game was considered as interfering with the practice of archery. Explanation: When a cricket interfered with bows and arrows is another mystery, but presumably some overenthusiastic battler must have crossed the bristles in the heat of play.

CRICKET IN THE COURTS
The pastime's progress was stuck another severe blow in 1409, when King Edward the 3rd, who referred to the game as "Hand In And Hand Out." Although this momentary setback was enough punishment for any game, it didn't stand and faded a fine of 20 marks and two years in the goal for violating players.

A guy by the name of John Trevisa held it out in 1390, said "Titty" years earlier about 1443. It was a scholar and I with several of my fellows did runne and playe at cricket and other playe."

Personally, I am of the opinion that if John and his fellows spelled that way it's no wonder the game had trouble. If I had been the judge I would have had them into court a lot sooner.

Shortly after 1748 royalty approved of cricket and proceeded to indulge in the game. It served them right. Frederick Lewis Prince of Wales died in 1751 from internal injuries caused by a blow from a cricket ball.

LAST GASPING BREATH
Up until 1744 cricket was played under haphazard rules. Then the London Cricket Club drafted the first set of rules. These have since revised several times since then, and now they are haphazard again.

The ruling power in cricket throughout the world is the Marylebone Cricket Club, named after a guy called Marlow who broke his shin bone on 7, when the game stopped suddenly for tea. He is reported to have tripped over a wicket when a Sussex blonde yelled "Sugars."

Cricket was introduced into the United States in 1751. The Americans immediately rejected baseball.

Then they were both even. The Americans didn't understand cricket, but Canada was caught in between the two. And consequently cricket has struggled valiantly for years.

Now, however, it is drawing its last gasping breath.

May it rest in peace.

Gas Explosion Burns Engineer

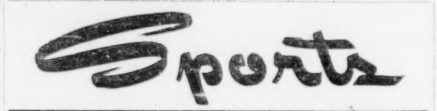

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ala., July 27—(CP)—Charles W. Jones, 35, 6714 resident engineer at the St. Mary dam at Norfolk County, is in patient in Jefferson hospital today following an explosion of gas at the pump-house at the dam over the weekend.

William F. Jones, 42, pumpmaster at the dam, was in the area when the explosion occurred. He was injured in the blast.

The gasoline engine at the pump-house was not running. Jones was when the men went to investigate, the engine backfired and there was an explosion.

Both men were badly burned about the hands and body.

Mermaids Break Records at Trials

VANCOUVER, July 27—(CP)—A sparkling record-breaking performance by 18-year-old Key McNamee of Vancouver and 18-year-old Vivian King of Winnipeg highlighted the final day's events of the British Empire Games swimming trials.

Competing in the senior women's 400-yard freestyle event, the two western swimmers provided more than 800 spectators with the "dream match" of the year.

King's time of 5:03.4 smashed the standing Canadian record of 5:07.8 set by herself in March this year.

Miss King, who matched strokes with the Vancouver girl 16 lengths of the 57-foot pool, also bettered the original record with a time of 5:03.2.

British Columbia swimmers continued to lead the way in the other events, threatening to sweep the finals here today and Thursday.

LONGEST TRIP—A 61-year-old swimmer, competing in the colors of California Swimming Club, captured the 200-yard breaststroke for senior men.

The blond swimmer came from behind to pass Pete Salmon of Victoria in the stretch and win by three feet. His time was 2:37.9, only three-tenths of a second off the existing Canadian mark.

Record of 2:37.6 is held by Salmon, who clocked 2:32.9 to finish runner-up to Ross.

Ross' performance confirmed earlier predictions that the 185-pounder, a comparative unknown here, would come through in the final. His performance may merit a place on Canada's squad to New Zealand next February.

VANCOUVER—Irish Strong surged to victory in the 100-yard backstroke final for senior women, clocking a fast 1:12.2.

Sore-Armed Mort Cooper Hit With Fans, Batters

MOORE JAW, July 27—(CP)—Mort Cooper, who once won a $100,000 prize tag when he was a National League pitcher, says he has more whiffs left in his repertoire but he knows how to lose. He is the pitcher.

The boxer, Independence, Mo., pitcher, a three-time National League All-Star, who won a $100,000 prize tag when he was a National League pitcher, says he has more whiffs left in his repertoire but he knows how to lose. He is the pitcher.

The 31-year-old right-hander still entertains hopes of a comeback but to fans around this prairie circuit—next stop down from the bustle—looks as if Mort will have a tough job. Since his arrival last month, opposition batters have greeted the sore-armed hurler like a long-lost cousin.

Cooper has appeared in about a dozen games, and his record, 1-1, is not encouraging. He has allowed 10 runs, 10 hits and 10 errors. He has been hit by 10 batters.

But fans by the thousands have flocked to parks around the circuit, lured by the magic of the Cooper name. Club owners agree

RIVERSIDE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 27—(CP)—Defending champion Frank Stranahan slipped gracefully through his first test in the Canadian amateur golf championship here yesterday but an unheralded Quebecer, R. H. (Sparky) Graham, stole the show.

Graham knocked the dominion's No. 1 ranking amateur, Walter McElroy, Vancouver, out of the tournament. Score was one-up.

HARPER OUSTED
Meanwhile, two Edmonton golfers kept rolling along, while a third, Jim Harper, fell to the wayside. Harper lost 4 and 3 to Dr. J. W. Sears of Fredericton.

Glenn Gray, Alberta champion, beat Maurice J. Dowling, Charlottetown, P. E. I. 4 and 3. And Vern Mohs, sidelinee Bob Ray, 15-year-old Nova Scotia junior champ, 3 and 2.

Stranahan, Toledo, O., millionaire, had no trouble blasting a back opponent, R. L. Davison of Amherst, N. S. 8 and 7 in a second round match. Stranahan won the first six holes and quickly ran out the string against his grey-haired opponent.

It wasn't such an easy assignment for Graham against McElroy. He is a fine handball player whose major distinction to date had been a Canadian victory in the Quebec amateur and a win in the Kent, Que., open.

Graham snuffed out a one-hole lead McElroy had in the 17th and then took the 18th when he drove the green at the 220-yard hole and McElroy caught a sand trap.

MAWHINNEY WINS
Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver captured easily a third round by disposing easily of the home club's John Seavey, 8 and 7. Mawhinney fired a two-under-par 22 on the first round.

Phil Farley of Toronto, Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., Tommy Ridgill of Montreal, and a capable band of others joined in the golfing assault on Stranahan.

Dick Chapman, ranking 11, 8 star from Oshawa, Mass., romped in an 8 and 6 victory over Rich Gray of St. John's, Nfld.

Gray, a member of the 1948 U.S. team, was one of the few Americans entered in the hunt for Stranahan's scalp. Chapman, a member of the 1948 U.S. team, was one of the few Americans entered in the hunt for Stranahan's scalp.
